

Wednesday, 5 March 2025

9:15 AM - 4:30 PM

School of Medicine

University of St Andrews

PROGRAMME

Delivering a better health future for Scotland

A Scotland's Future Series Symposium

University of St Andrews

Scotland's Future Series

Programme

Morning Session

Identifying the key health and social care challenges facing Scotland

9:15-10:00	Registration and Refreshments
10:00-10:10	Welcome Dean of Medicine
10:10-10:30	A Scotland perspective: Taking care Professor Sir Gregor Smith, Chief Medical Officer for Scotland
10:30-10:50	An NHS Fife perspective Carol Potter, Chief Executive, NHS Fife
10:50-11:10	Home Based Ecosystem Centered on Hospital at Home: A US experience Dr Linda DeCherrie, Vice President for Clinical Strategy and Implementation at Medically Home, USA
11:10-11:40	Refreshments
11:40-12:00	A Scottish response – to Healthcare delivery in the community Professor Graham Ellis, Deputy Chief Medical Officer for Scotland
12:00-12:20	Reducing illegal drug deaths - Community drug addiction services in the future Professor Alex Baldacchino, University of St Andrews
12:20-12:50	Panel Discussion and Speaker Q&A Professor Brad MacKay – Chair, Professor Linda Bauld – Panel Lead, Professor Gregor Smith, Carol Potter, Dr Linda DeCherrie, Professor Graham Ellis, Professor Alex Baldacchino, Dr Chris McKenna and Professor Peter Donnelly
12:50-13:50	Lunch and Poster Viewing Theme: 'Health improvement in the community' Posters presented by University of St Andrews students and staff

Programme

Afternoon Session

Universities – Working for health improvement in the community

13:50-14:10	West Side United - Improving Health and Economic Vitality through Anchor Institution Partnerships Ayesha Jaco, M.A.M., Executive Director, West Side United Eve Shapiro, M.P.H., Senior Director, Programs and Evaluation, West Side United
14:10-14:30	Patients' agency in healthcare improvement Professor Chris Butler, Professor of Primary Care, University of Oxford
14:30-14:50	Leveraging the potential of health information technology and data science to transform the management and delivery of surgical care Professor Ewen Harrison, Personal Chair of Surgery and Data Science, Usher Institute, University of Edinburgh
14:50-15:10	Refreshments
15:10-15:30	Research in Social Care Professor Adam Gordon, Professor of the Care of Older People, Academic Centre for Healthy Ageing, Queen Mary University of London and Whipps Cross Hospital, London
15:30-15:50	Health Education and Research in the Community Professor David Crossman and Professor Karen Reid, CEO, NHS Education Scotland
15:50-16:20	Panel Discussion and Speaker Q&A Professor Brad MacKay – Chair, Professor Peter Donnelly – Panel Lead, Professor Chris Butler, Professor Adam Gordon, Professor David Crossman, Professor Karen Reid, Dr Chris McKenna, and Carol Potter
16:20-16:30	Closing Remarks